Art Unit: 2652

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-3, 5, 6, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by KOMATSU et al (6,233,114).

Note figures 1, 3, and 4. KOMATSU et al shows a disk drive (see figure 1) with a frame (210) having a bottom (211) and side walls (212-1, 212-2), a slider having a bottom and side walls and a carrier. The slider sidewalls and carrier features are illustrated in the prior art figure 1. The frame, slider, and carrier are formed of metallic sheet (see column 1 lines 25-29). The slider has engaging pieces (222, 222a) that extend in the thickness direction of the metallic sheet and that are formed by bending part of the sheet (see column 5 lines 24-35). These engaging pieces cooperate with engaging holes (214) in the frame to guide the movement of the slider. Note figure 3, the engaging holes (214) have a plurality of guide parts (re claims 2 and 3). The front engaging holes and pieces are located near the front and the eject button (170) (re claim 5).

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 2652

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

This claim depends from canceled claim 4. Applicant must correct the dependency.

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3, 5, 6, and 8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

6. Applicant cited the KOMATSU et al reference (which is the basis for now rejecting amended claims 1-3, 5, 6, and 8) in an IDS filed with the response to the first Office Action. Also disclosed was the EPO search report that utilized the KOMATSU et al reference to reject these claims. Thus the present rejection is not considered to preclude making this rejection final.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
